President's Report 2006/07

Fellow Lizards,

As another successful and enjoyable Lizards year draws to a close it is time to reflect on some of the highlights which this year included Dawson Carroll migrating to sunnier shores and the completion of the Royal Avalon Golf Club carpark, but also the untimely retirement of Bill Epps from active club duty.

2006/07 also saw – for the first time in living memory – a Lizards day cancelled before the event. That's right, the June 2007 Lizards Day had to be called off due to the course being unsuitable for play and because of this there are some changes to this year's final results. All annual trophies (eclectics, club championship etc) have been calculated and awarded as at the end of May. The Father and Son will not be contested, and the Lindenberg Event (on the agreement of both finalists) will be played in July 2007.

Actually the Lizards are getting a reputation as drought breakers this year with the Far Kew Shield and Sheehan Mug events being washed out as well. I hasten to add that these days were not wasted and alternate activities were pursued by the Lizards ensuring that our motto of "it never rains on Lizards Day" held true.

Your committee has done an outstanding job again this year and I thank them for their diligence and good humour. I'd like to extend a special thank you to Manfred Wagner. His back condition has not improved and hence he is still unable to play golf; however he still extends his services by way of managing the handicaps, printing out NTP markers, collating the annual results and other associated tasks. Well done Manfred!

One of the main golfing highlights for the year was certainly John O'Meara's Hole-In-One in December. Not content with winning the day's event he also aced the 12th hole, but as the editor pointed out this was not a nearest the pin hole so he was promptly fined.

Finally, my encouragement goes out to the 2007/08 committee. Hopefully we will have a new face or two sharing some of the responsibility and giving back to the club that gives so much to its members.

Have a great year!

Treasurer's Report 2006/07

Gentlemen, I am pleased to announce that the Lizards Golf Club is in good financial shape coming in with a modest profit over the financial year of $146.00. This leaves us with a healthy balance in the bank of just over $1,350.00.

Vicki has told me that she is not aware of any pending increase to the golf fees by Pittwater Council, so there is no pressure at the moment for a fee increase. The annual subscriptions will also remain at their current levels of $10.00 for members and $5.00 for country members. Please note these are due on July 2007 or the first month attended.
