

Greetings to all you lovely people & to the Lizards.
Today is the last meeting of the year. It will be a beautifull day for golf. It will be a sunny day with quite a nip in the air. In fact it'll be a bloody cold day.

As the few amongst you with any intelligence at all, will realize, it will be the last meeting of the year because the Annual General Meeting is to be held on ~~Wednesday~~ ^{Thurs} the 8 of July.

All you Lizards are urged to turn up to this gathering.

As you may be aware the Annual General Meetings of the Lizards are mostly hilarious events. You have the opportunity to propose and vote for your worst enemy to a position on the committee. You have the chance to ask all the most awkward questions, and if you are diabolical you may propose that women be admitted as members or that only new beer be served on the grounds of economy.

If on the other hand you are idiotic enough to think you can do a job on the committee you can put your name down for any particular position.

A list is posted up today for this purpose.

The event of today is for the Dave Treharne Trophy. It is anticipated that the valuable prize will consist of a 5 gallon bucket of pure sea water, gathered off North Head. This water is very rich in minerals and organic matter, diluted to one part in a million it can successfully be used to combat your neighbours weeds.

The other major event today is the annual Lizards v's St. Augustines Trophy.

Last year, you will remember, St. Augustines following the inspiring leadership of Father Cameron, won by trickery, cheating and other forms of skulduggery.

This year because of Father Camerons advancing years and mental decrepitude, a volunteer is asked for. He needn't be a Lizard. His duties will be to carry and set up at each tee Father Cameron's personal portable altar.

Another volunteer, preferably a Lizard, is also wanted to make up Father Cameron's four. This is to ensure that both sides follow the same rules.

Last Months Results.

Captain Handicappers Day, Geoff Wotton 41 off 14.

Lizards: 1st Geoff Wotton 41 off 14
2nd Laurie Laidlaw 38 off 13
3rd Alister Campbell 37 off 6

Well done Alister against this couple of ECBs.

Visitors: 1st Reg Pearse 37 off 18
2nd Fred Porter 36 off 32

N,the Pins: 1st Ted Holliday
18th Les Garlick

Bradman: Kev Lawler 15 off 25

Aries: There were too many to mention individually.

At the end of the list of last months winners handed to me by the C.H. was a mysterious unnotation.

It read "The C.H. will attend the next committee meeting sober."

The main reason he offered was to announce that the N.the Pins would be the 1st and 18th. .

However, your most Hon. Editor, having the last say, says that the nearest the pins are the 4th and 10th. The committee agreed to my recommendation.

Your Ed., had taken this step, knowing that there will be a new C. H. in retaliation for his unreasonable and outrageous low handicap of 30 he has me on.

New C.H. take notice.

Of Interest An idle thought went through my mind last meeting!
What will life be like when Hatherway recovers from his attack of laryngitis?

STOP PRESS: Col Does It Again.

Last week Col Mac went to look at Dave Treharnes new boat.

He couldn't get aboard because it was about 3 feet from the Wharf, but he spotted Tom Castray on the deck and shouted out "You ..."
Tom didn't take the slightest notice, so Col yelled "You bloody...."
Again no notice.

Anyway Col then went down to the Club later, spotted Tom Castray and abused him for not recognising him at Dave's Wharf.

Tom said what do you mean, I've been in the Club all the afternoon.

Col is most upset hoping the bloke on the boat didn't recognise him.

Hon. Ed.
