

GREETINGS.. Lizards and other stupidifiers. A warm welcome to our guests.

Today's play is a normal Lizards Stableford event coupled with Life Member, Lance Try's Secret Nine Trophy.

It is predicted that the prize will consist of five gallons of much used Motor Oil. It is suggested that among other uses, it could be used for frying chips (it will impart an interesting and peculiar flavour). Or, alternatively it could be used for the manufacture of hair cream to give the user that desired unsophisticated look.

After much prodding from the Committee and much dilly-dallying from the C.H. he decided the N's the P's. would be the 1st and 17th.

Other trophy donors will be J. Atkins, A. Campbell and J. Howe.

Next month will be the Gordon Donald Day with other donors being E. MacMeechan, J. Ross and D. Treharne.

LAST MONTH'S RESULTS.

1st.	N. Bentley.	41 off 32 (on c.b.)
2nd.	J. Howe.	41 off 40.
3rd.	C. McClelland	37 off 20.

The Dave Treharne Bradman Winner - Dave Treharne with 16 off 28. Anticipating that there will be an adjustment of handicaps, particularly mine, I have started a research into the C.H.'s antecedents, such as whether he had any. The results will be published.

VISITORS.	1st G. Furzer.	35 off 6.
	2nd. G. Bird.	33 off 13.

NEAREST THE PINS.	1st G. Quinland.
	13th. Lori Laidlaw.

POINTS OF INTEREST.

- (1) It promises to be an interesting year.
 - (a) Our Pres. caused to be printed the fixture cards, but the idiot didn't check with that other idiot, our Hon. Printer. Consequently, the cards didn't show special days and special trophies. That's why you don't have a card today.
 - (b) Our most esteemed Sec-Treasurer, the same one who last year, three times in a row, placed our beer supply in jeopardy, forgot to advise the committee of the meeting. Consequently, our Caterer, Bill Townsend, didn't turn up. Bill is also stupid in placing too much faith in Bill Epps.

- (2) The Way the Electric Works. During the year the best score of each hole is taken minus two thirds of the year's average handicap. The lowest aggregate wins.

Some of you may still have doubts after reading this.

This is because I'm full when writing this and you're full when you're reading it. If you are still doubtful and you still have faith in the C.H. ask him :

- (3) Points Score Workings. This is based on....

4 points for each attendance.

Plus	4 pts for a 1st
	3 " " 2nd
	2 " " 3rd
	1 " " 4th

- (4) Applicants for membership. It would be appreciated if future applicants would make the applications in verse, the funnier the better.

- (5) Annual Subs. There are still a number of Lizards who haven't paid their subs of $2.10. There is the merest suggestion that those who don't pay today might find their names prominently displayed next month.

- (6) Nearest the Pins. Starting from today and for the next two meetings, two balls will be awarded for each N. the P.

You must not gather from this that your committee is being overgenerous. It simply wants to get rid of the low grade balls procured, or purchased, or procured by our Tonsilectomy victim. God help us when he recovers.

- (7) Today will be exhibited a board, provided by Bill Epps, if he doesn't forget, showing the N'the P. 's and also allowing you to put your names in a particular grouping and a particular time.

Please use this Board to keep play running smoothly.

- (8) Some of you bloody fools will have said, "Ah, the Editor has spelt Laurie Laidlaw's Christian name as Lori; he's an idiot.

This is not so ! It is his name.

Now this quaint and improbable name is most apt for such a quaint and improble bloke.

I think it's likely that he was given this name because his expectant mother was given a fright by one of those German witches.. the Lorelei. This theory explains a lot of things. Perhaps you gentle readers have a different explanation. So therefore a Grand Competition will be held.

The best suggestion for why he was given this name will receive a magnificent prize. It consists of being forced to partner Lori for the rest of the year.

- (9) It has been decided that letters to the editor column will be started.

Anything which you feel should be communicated to other Lizards would be welcomed.

For instance, last month a Lizard's ball landed in a small puddle. He took his wood to it, sent the ball flying about six inches and sent up all the puddle all over himself.

He very carefully replaced his club cover and hurled the club as far as he could.

His identity will not be divulged except that he's in the insurance racket and he whispers a lot.

Another happening which I would like to report is.. if you happen to catch out the C.H. in any of his small cheatings which I strongly suspect he indulges in.

CO-ED'S NOTE. HAVE YOU UNDERSTOOD THIS BULLETIN ?
IT WAS WRITTEN IN ENGLISH.
