

FLAT OUT LIKE FOR DECEMBER 1973

Greetings to you Lizards and to your wonderful guests. When I say wonderful I mean in the context of odd-balls.

Today is the Les Garlick - Ron Hathaway Day.
It will be a Secret Pairs.

It is also the Christmas meeting and is the Bring-a-Prize, Win-a-Prize Day.

Of course amongst such a stupid mob, there must be at least one super-stupid clot who has forgotten to bring a trophy.

He, or they, may redeem themselves by buying at the shop -

- i One or more golf balls
- or ii At least 100 golf tees
- or iii A few cartons of cigarettes or cigars.

Today it will probably be very hot and very humid.
Jack Ewers will likely give up after the 1st nine and will vow that he'll never play at Royal Avalon again.
These Dubbo Kids haven't got the stamina to put up with a little heat and sweat.
I will also predict that the beer will run out by 2.30 because Lance Try will ensure that he is first to hit off so as to be first back.

The Longest Drive will be on the 7th or 16th.

Last Month's Results

- Winners of the Paul Hennessy - Les Atkins Trophies

Bill Smith & Tony Webb 50 off 20

- Winners of the Lizards Trophies : Bill Smith & Tony Webb.

At this stage I must enter a strong protest.
It has been traditional that no one can win two major trophies.
When I pointed this out to the Pres, he told me that the donors of the trophies had stipulated that this be the case. I would suggest that donors of trophies have no right to make conditions and that it is the committee's responsibility only.

A former president, Les Garlick, supports me in this.

End of Gripe!

Visitors : 1st Harry Tipper and Ron Hinson 50 off 24

My partner failed lamentably to take advantage of my handicap -- Idiot!

POINTS OF INTEREST (Cont)

- (2) Geoff threw his club into rough
Hard to find, mighty tough
But surely his brain is clinically dead
Should have hit in direction of Fred
Might have hit his pea brain head
I have named two duffs, but for now thats enough.

Those literary gents amongst you, if any, will discern, with excitement, that above is the first six-lined limerick,

But anything thats unusual can flow from this discerning pen.

- (3) Some of you may think that your Ed is being unkind in bringing to you hidden facts about some Lizards, particularly at the Christmas meeting, but I consider that it is my Lizardous Right and my Democratic Right to say as I think.

To try to educate you Nits I will give you my definition as to what Democracy is all about.

It is when a load of Twits, like you, tell THEM what to do and THEY don't do it.

- (4) At Palm Beach, Royle Jenkin took out both Nearest the Pins and the longest drive.

I forget who won the Bradman.

A MOST HAPPY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL.
