'FLAT OUT LIKE' ---

Here we go for the Christmas get together and in view of the goodwill season lets have no singing, no dancing, no shouting and no bloody fighting.
Donors for today are Garlick and Hathaway the "Orrible Duo", and in addition its a bring a prize win a prize day.
Every player brings a prize to the value of $2 and as in previous years all prizes will be placed in the centre and winners take their pick in the order of points scored on the day. It's a good idea to score well as the bottle shaped prizes don't last long.
The event will be a three stick affair, choose whichever clubs you prefer.
Nearest the pins will no doubt again be the subject of controversy which I now refuse to buy into, you had better check before going out on the course.

card (and then gloated).

with variations from the original there.

PERSONAL PARS

1. The feud between the Captain Handicapper and the Caterer appears to be reaching outright war proportions.
Brian won't give Fred any tucker because Fred dropped his handicap 3 strokes.
Fred is adamant that he will keep reducing Brian's handicap untill he gets a feed.
Brian says no grub untill I get my strokes back.
As I see it the end will come when Brian is down to a plus 2 handicap and Freddie weighs five stone four.
2. The same Fearless Fred threw a tantrum last month because the committee changed the competition from a Foursomes to a Four ball best ball without consulting him.

Fearless says he was not upset but I reckon that anybody who bangs his head on the table with tears running down his cheeks is not very happy.

3. What about the little Japanese swinger who was playing in front of Lance Trys Four.
She hit a galah with her second shot on the second hole and killed it, feathers everywhere.
Her husband carried it off the course, we did not see where he put the body but it was somewhere near the hut. Don't be suprised if we get fricassied galah for next months main course as the Caterer knew about it.
4. Nice to see the Hennesseys out again, being a Fom I always examine his golf bag for gelignite, his mob are knocking too many of our mob off.
Before you say it I'll say it for you. "Impossible"
5. Dave Treharne is in the market for a set of matched clubs, he played with Jack Ewer's matched set at Tuggarah Lakes and was srprised at the difference it made to his game.
By the way he got 5 points on the front Nine and 14 on the second Nine, if I were you Dave I would only buy half a set or else play the back 9 all the time.

All the best for the Festive Season.
