FLAT OUT LIKE

November 1986

WELCOME to - wait for it - PLUMBER'S DAY! Alan Lewis, our leading lead dresser, while pounding away at a Scruttons Product Code 316 152, came up with the idea of joining the Printers by having a Trade Day. The Committee were so impressed they unthreaded their rusty stops and annealed the advent of the new event to the first available fixture card. Good work Al. To save the laymen wading through the 725 page Scruttons catalogue, the plumbing item referred to was an Easy Clean, Exposed Cock/Hot.

The Printer's Day produced the following results :

First Lizards : Mark MacMillan 44 Points off 16 Handicap

Second Lizards : Tony Della 40 Points off 9 Handicap

Captain Handicapper's and Assistant's Trophy (Fifth in Lizards) : Ken Bond 34 Points off 8 Handicap

First Visitors : David Webb 39 Points off 31 Handicap

Bradman : Bill Sheehan 28 Points off 24 Handicap

LM BILL SHEEHAN, October winner with 42 points crashed to the end of the field in much the same way as Pat Purcell who slipped from second in September with 40 points to the Bradman the following month. Nothing to do with being Irish, to be sure - and to prove it, Bill found $2 in the shed and handed it to the TREASURER : may the Saints preserve us.

MARK MACMILLAN ran into a bit of flak from some of the players chanting "WE WANT HARRY" as he started to conduct the meeting. When it was explained that PRESIDENT HARRY had elected to sit under a nearby tree and assume the role of Custodian of the Fence. The affair got under way only to be interrupted by the same President when he blasted off with regard to the missing LIZARD. One member, caught in a withering crossfire, stated that he didn't have it and for all that he knew it could be up the tree that Harry was using as a parasol. And there it was, nestling limb to limb. It came down, Harry's blood pressure followed suit and the affair got underway again.

PETER GRIMES, looking like an escapee from the crew of Stars and Stripes in his Mulibu cap and Hawaii shirt, attracted the most fines - a few of which were :

- Not bringing his dog to golf
- Throwing clubs on all holes
- Reprimanding Ray Walsham for wearing a new shirt to Lizards
- Using unseemly language
- Taking beer onto the course
- Loosening the wheel nut of an opponent's buggy with disastrous results, and
- Endeavouring to bribe the SECRETARY/TREAS. with a view to having the fines reduced.

VISITOR MURRAY GRIBBON burst from the first tee and scored 12 points in 4 holes before settling down to his normal abnormal game.

TONY DELLA looked pleased with himself on the day, not so much for having reduced his handicap by scoring 40 points but was still basking in the afterglow of his son (of Father and Son fame) having earned the qualifications to be in the Yellow Pages as DOCTOR Stephen Della - WOW ! Congratulations to all concerned.

CATERER/CHEF ANDY WARNER, who still prefers to be known as Generous Culinary Cordon Bleu Chef Caterer, lived up to his self-inflicted alias last month by producing a couple of succulent roasts with the aid of his on-site pot-bellied WEBER. Let's hope that he doesn't tire in his energetic quest for highly successful innovations.

THE CRICKETERS are here today. Cohorts of Ken Bond, John Copeman and Andy Warner and officially known as the Manly-Warringah Leagues Club Cricket Club Ltd, they are ably led by Captain Gordon Pratt and permeated by Vice-Captain Bones. Last year team member Keith Miller beat us single handed by scoring the best part of 50 points. It's our turn today, so look cool, hit a few good balls, otherwise they will know it's a fake.

THE CHRISTMAS HAMPER will be drawn at Avalon next month. The SEC/TREAS. has a few books of tickets for issue or sale on the spot. If you have not brought anything with a Christmas flavour for the Hamper, you can slip the Treas a few dollars for the ham etc and/or bring something on the day.

BRING A PRIZE/WIN A PRIZE will be on for Members and Visitors attending the Christmas game. Advise any intending visitors of the simple procedure and remember to keep your "Bring a Prize" on a separate heap well clear of the Hamper. Santa has found his suit and will call up participants to select their prize in order of merit on the day's score.

THE CAPTAIN/HANDICAPPER will again be in his kiosk today to arrange lottery tickets for the winners/losers.

P.S.

What did the Editor think of the new-look F.O.L.?

"Great! Good clear type and with a half page LOGO it's easier to fill in the blank space."
