WELCOME TO ANDY WARNER'S VICE-PRESIDENTIAL DAY.

Andy is certainly one of the better known silhouettes on the Lizard shadow board. A past Caterer - remember the succulent weber roasts; A Captain Handicapper of renown and a previous Vice-President. On that occasion he declined nominations for Presidency due to pressures, of that era, in his other job. Here's hoping he has that pastime running on automatic pilot and will be able to subject himself to the uncertainty of the democratic process at the AGM next week.

V-P DAY, the last card in the 88/89 pack, marks the end of the Lizard's 43rd year of good fellowship, spiced by a round of golf each month. To round off the occasion we have the annual Father and Son event, the nail biting final of the Lindenberg Knockout, our last chance of improving our scratch and handicap Eclectic statistics, or to supplement our Club Championship points. The mid year raffle will be drawn and, to add to the mayhem, we are hosting the annual onslaught of the Curl Curl Touch Football team.

The C.C.C. Touch Football team is here for their bash at the perpetual trophy. Captain Gary Dunne could have such well known gnarled heads in tow as Killer, Buddah, Snowy, Dobby, Chocko, Jed, Chippy, Spotto the Kiwi plucker, and Puss, if he hasn't been extradited to England. The Classics have won the previous two matches at Avalon, which doesn't do much for their chances today. Welcome to Gary and the team - and good luck for your hat trick.

PRESIDENT'S DAY produced the following results:

HARRY W. and JOHN C., more accustomed to appearing on the fines list than the top of the hit parade, were undaunted by the paddy field conditions, and returned to the launching ramp with fair weather scores. An incredible achievement.

MICHAEL KENT, having a trial run on behalf of the Curl Curl Classics, was able to show a clean pair of knees to his fellow visitors after circumnavigating the marshy track.

THE PUTTING was contested after the game on the practice putting green, sited well above the flood line. A hole about 7m. from the start was chosen and everyone, including Jessie of the Blue Cattle breed, prepared for the fray. Some were getting close, most were well short. Jessie snatched the President's Dunlop 65 as his club head was about to make contact. Len Le Mon's well calculated putt was curving toward the cup when, in a blur, Jessie retrieved the ball. Ken Bond knocked his in for an ace to take the prize.

THE ARIES didn't seem the same without Nifty - absent on sick leave - so John Copeman stood in for him, and drank to his health. Nev, however, was not admitted to hospital for his operation, due to the lack of a bed on his prescribed admission date. The proposed surgery is in the throes of being "re scheduled".

THE LINDENBERG SEMI FINAL stole the limelight. Garry Bird vs Peter Grimes was not decided till the 18th. Peter got away to a flying start to be 3 up after 6 holes and 2 up at the ninth. Garry was not entirely overawed and levelled the score at the 16th and went on to win by the skin of his teeth.

NEIL SHACKLE vs Jim Small was another neck and neck affair. All square at the ninth and again at the 14th, it was not till the 16th that Neil had a 2 hole lead, and managed to win one of the remaining holes to keep his nose in front as they hit the tape. Neil carded 28 putts to Jim's 32 - the turning point of the game. Jim, the current Trophy holder, has joined Peter and the rest of us on the sideline and will share the excitement of the final from the front row of the stand.

CONGRATULATIONS TO GARRY AND NEIL.

SP outlets around the waterfront watering holes had them both at 2 to 1 on! - fortunately the Tea Lady is on a Woman's Weekly tour of Borneo, so we won't be able to publish the result till after the event. Good luck fellers.

THE AGM will be conducted at the Manly Amateur Fishermen's Club at 7.00 pm on Tuesday 27th June. A 10 course chinese banquet and drinks at around $15 for members and regular visitors. Full details at today's meeting.

NOMINATION FORMS for the 89/90 committee are available in the Shed.
