November, 1993

WELCOME TO THURSDAY/CHRIST DAY, M.R.S. This day is our opportunity to spare a thought for Harry Thurston - an entering Lizard, known for his unerring reliability, who died after a short illness in December, 1990. Donor Dave has not lost his edge around the course - the best front nine and longest drive last month. Our thanks for the day to these Lizards of long standing.

CONGRATULATIONS to Vicki Jellis, who played her way through 4ccc entrants to secure a place in the 3 member team to represent Australia in the final of the BMW Golf Club International, the world's biggest amateur tournament, in ROME. Ten times winner of The Australian G.C., Associates Championship, Vicki cracked it for the Green and Gold when she won the Australian final of the BMW Cup International at the Pines course, Sanctuary Cove. What a clever possum!

THE GRIMES/LEWIS TRADE DAY, with 18 Lizards and 5 Visitors, produced the following results:

LIZARDS 1 st	Anthony Beale	41 points off 15 Handicap
LIZARDS 2 nd	Tim Small	38 points off 17 Handicap
VISITORS 1 st	Paul Sullivan	26 points off 26 Handicap on a count back

PRESIDENT Anthony Beale had his first win, in a monthly event, since joining the Club in May 89. He rolled in, in second place, with 41 off 21, the following month. Apart from a couple of minor placings, he faded from the ~~subliminal~~ victor's pedestal till he eventually burst from his dusty cocoon, in the spring of 93! It was not as though the handicapper was diluting his prowess, for some clandestine reason - Anthony WAS the handicapper for the 2 years prior to taking on his present role.

DONOR and low handicapper, Peter Grimes, picked up 5 points by carding an albatross on the Clonhill 225 metre 14th.

GRAHAM BRYCE drove the same green - but missed the putt.

JIM SMALL'S ^{game} has not been affected by his association with the BMW company, but his new set of Pings put some Zing in his swing. His faultless 38 points could be just the tip of more titanic results.

NEU MEREDITH, the quarry at Port Macquarie, was tracked down by a dozen Lizards, earlier this month. After collecting keys to pre-arranged accommodation, overlooking the entrance to the Port, they proceeded to the 8 month old Emerald Downs 2792 metre, par 36, 9 hole course - Nifty was there, looking like a million dollars, to greet them.

THE TROOP, led by Pres., Anthony Beale, pumped Neu's drinking arm, pummeled his back, asked how he was going and, before he could recall his complete history, legged him into a shiny golf cart and requested ^{him} to blaze the trail for a double circuit of the course, to mark the occasion of the Lizards inaugural northern migration.

THE COURSE is long, testing, with roomy fairways, large greens, plenty of lakes and bunkers and well laid out in a bushland setting, with 3 each of pars 3, 4 and 5.

THE NINE holes are numbered 10 to 18 - the first nine is still on the drawing board. By so doing, the permanent club house, when erected somewhere over the hill, will have the 1st tee at the front door.

THE 150 metre par 3, 11th, has the same aura as the Bermuda Triangle - with its water carry from tee to green.

THE 19th was the relaxing verandah of the temporary club house/pro. shop. A cold beers and BBQ went down well, as the sun set on the Emerald Downs.

THE LIZARD Pres., announced the winners:

1 st Anthony Beale	37 Points
2 nd Dave Dunworth	36 Points
Bradman Martin MacGuinness	15 Points.

Having played off Aqualon handicaps, on a course 2372 metres longer than the home ground, these scores ~~are~~ ^{were} no mean feat!

Anthony was presented with a silver tray, donated by John O'Meara.

Congratulations to the winners and our thanks to the organisers ~~for~~ ^{for} a great weekend.

THE RIBBON on the new second tee at Aqualon was cut by the Mayor of Pittwater, on the 12th of this month, when he drove a ball down the fairway from the elevated garden area, in a 9 hole charity tournament, run by Rotary. Lizards Jim Small and Bill Epps were entrants, but failed to win any of the numerous trophies. First and second past the post carded scores of nett 24! Up dated score cards have been printed - we are using them today

OVERSEAS MEMBER, Dawson Carroll, is packing his tropical rig and should be with us on Christmas Carroll Day.

STOP PRESS: The Australian BMW Cup Team won the International Tournament. Good on you Vicki!
