NOVEMBER, 2003

WELCOME to MORGAN-MOONEY DAY MKV and the return of the PORT MACQUARIE contingent. The EMINEMS Michael and Chris are Donors for the day - with Michael as laterer^{and} Chris as Victualer. Michael and Chris are good examples of home grown lizard golfers. Both appeared as visitors in 92 sporting 36 handicaps; joined in 92/3; shared 38 trips to the members pay window to collect 18 wins and 18 second placings; and reduced their handicaps by more than 56%. Chris, in what should have been his spare time, is full time curator of the Lizards WEB SITE. Half off to this durable double.

CASTLE HILL PLATE DAY, with 15 Lizards and 3 Visitors, produced the following results:

MATTHEW, one of the four Castles on the scene, kept the family standard flying and bagged a nearest the pin for good measure

GARRY BIRD L.M. blasted his way out of the pack with a 23 pointer on the second nine - to come within a shot of winning.

IAN MASSEY returned a copybook 36 pointer to take out the visitors' trophy - and was fined for losing the ladle in the cauldron of soup.

ROSS RANNE, visitors' runner up, was fined for admitting he plays at Avalon every Saturday.

THE HOLE-IN-ONE JACKPOT is worth somewhere between $150 and $200. Hart Schwarz, playing off 28, went close to scooping the pool last month. Put $2 in the bin and hit and hope with the rest of us.

HART was entered in the well attended Annual Diggers Day at Warringah Golf Club. He won the day and a young Japanese golfer came second. In the clubhouse, when the results went up, they were in 2 groups. Them and us. There was another game played over the last 6 holes - The rum run. Hart won that as well. When asked how he managed such a feat he said there was beer at every hole and rum over the last 6 - and the rest of the field got a bit drunk.

MICHAEL MORAN, with a record of 3 wins and 4 seconds over the past 15 months as a visitor, opened his shoulders as a lizard, for the first time, and shot a Bradman at point blank with a 22. The wine test proved he wasn't fox hunting but just had a bad day.

NEXT MONTH IS CHRISTMAS CARROLL DAY - remind your visitors of the bring a prize caper.
