JUNE 2019

Welcome to Vice President's Day

(Semi Finals of the Lindenberg)

Michael Porter has had what you'd call a quiet year as Vice President. The unofficial monthly records don't reveal any ceremonial duties, he has had zero podium finishes, but has probably picked up a NTP or two. No matter! Lizards Presidential glory would be in a sorry state if it relied solely on results from the course. We therefore await with bated breath to see whether Mick goes on to be President, or if another dark horse emerges.

PRESIDENT'S DAY, with 20 Lizards and 5 visitors, produced the following results:

Results of the Quarter-Finals of the Lindenberg

Brian Ellis	d	David Dunworth	2 up
Keith McDonald	d	bye	w/o
Jim Buckenham	d	Jim Small LM	3 & 2
Lyndon Pollock	d	Neil Winterton LM	4 & 3

Matthew Castle made a 'now you see him now you don't' visit and was unfortunately not around to collect his prize for leading the field home. This was actually his first win since June 2017, so let's hope that his father admitted to picking up the prize on his behalf!

Chris Mooney LM found some form for a change, cruising home with 38 points. It was, however, another case of 'what could have been' because after racing out of the blocks with 23 points, he merely limped home with 15. Better luck next time.

Glenn 'Stretch' Castle made a welcome return to our playing ranks after having suffered a shoulder injury whilst attempting to knock Brian Ellis out of the way on the first tee at Calderwood. It was never going to work of course, but at least he's swinging again. By the look of his score he's easing himself back into form.

Fines of the Day

Michael Porter	Complaining that he had so many friends he did not know who he should play with
Ivan Tiltins	Asked Mark Bull if he got him home last night. Ivan had memory issues
Lyndon Pollock	Sent his son out on the course today in all his old gear
Michael Morgan	On the third hole stood on the distance marker and asked his playing partners how long the hole was
John O'Meara	Credit fine for raising dress standards at Lizards with his finely tailored, high waisted, charcoal black slacks
